

BURNED TO DEATH.

WACO, Tex., Aug. 1.—The residence of Andrew Dow, one mile south of here, burned at a late hour last night, resulting in the total loss of his valuable belongings. The house was located in the lower story by members of the Dow family and in an upper room by James Randall and Samm. Lawrence, a deaf and dumb man, thirty years old, a native emigrant from England. It is unknown how the fire originated. It was first discovered by Randall who was awakened by the smoke enveloped in houses. Rousing his companion, they sprang out of the front gallery and Randell climbed down the post mortem of his companion to do likewise. Labrook was soon dressed and he hurried to the door and ran unhesitatingly to the roof uttering piteous cries while the flames increased and took hold of him. In a few moments, Matthew Dow came upon the scene and seeing Labrook's plight, motioned him to jump into his arms. This he at once did but it was too late as he was already a mass of burns ready to burst. A physician hurried could do nothing good, and he died in great agony in about three hours.
